ANNUAL ICE CARNIVAL AGAIN GREAT SUCCESS

Drayton Valley's 17th Annual Ice Carnival March 24 and 25 boasted an attendance of over 1,800 for the three performances, with Bonnie Mayer being crowned the 1972 Ice Carnival Queen.

"On a Magic Carpet" provided the background for the skating club's tour of fantasyland. Master of Ceremonies, Doug Barnes introduced each performance, with the opening address on Friday night and Saturday afternoon made by Mayor Lloyd MacLean and by Deputy-Mayor Ron Smith Saturday evening.

The magic carpet ride began, naturally, in the land of the genies, followed by an "Arabian Night" featuring solist Barb Paley. Some 19 cave men then showed the audience their version of those "olden days", with a minuet following as would suit the court of King Louis XIV and featuring Michaelle Shimbashi.

A stop at the "Candy Shop" was next, where gum, peppermint candies and lollipops did their dance on the good old ship "Lollipop."

Rhobin Shimbashi followed with a winsome performance of "Wish Upon a Star"; Debbie Schultz led her Mousketeers through their show; and "101 Dalmations" wagged their way into the spotlights and barked their way off.

Soloist Darlene Harrison found herself being chased by ghosts and skeletons through the "Haunted House", and "Yellow Submarine" ended the first half of the magic carpet trip.

Saturday evening's intermission highlighted the carnival with the crowning of the Queen. Dan Baines, President of the Rotary Club, introduced the candidates, with the 1971 Queen, Vikki Wardlow, crowning Bonnie Mayer, the service and Supply Candidate, for her 1972 reign. Bonnie Mohn, High School Candidate, and Debbie Reid, Producing Companies' Candidate, offered keen competition, and ballot counts were close.

"My Boomerang Won't Come Back" made a humorous start to the last half of the ride; 35 skaters followed with "Let's Have a Parade", and Captain Hook made his appearance in the form of Karen Machan and her fellow pirates.

Huckleberry Finn and his fishing gang showed up next, with Didier Coppens leading the way.

Ratepayers Again Show Minimal Meeting Interest

As is usual, only about 10 citizens appeared at the Town of Drayton Valley's Annual Meeting on March 20th to learn of the town's activities and finances during the 1971 fiscal year.

Bill Johanneson, Town Administrator, reported that a surplus of over $18,448 showed in the General Revenue Fund. However, he pointed out that the deficit incurred in the Water Revenue Fund of $6,811 provided a net surplus of nearly $12,000.

He reported that property taxes again increased over 1970-up some $35,000-owing to additional assessment from the large growth in 1969 and 1970. It is expected this pattern will again show in 1972.

Mayor Lloyd MacLean expressed the that the mill rate now standing at 80 will not increase in 1972.

Councillor Ron Smith, Chairman of Finance and Personnel, felt that if the water system is

Ratepayers Protest High School Name

At the annual meeting of Drayton Valley ratepayers on Monday, March 20th the name of the new high school attracted a measure of criticism.

The meeting went on record in favor of writing to the County of Parkland School Committee opposing the changing of the Frank Maddock name from its previous location to the new building.

"How," one ratepayer asked, "can you formally dedicate a building under a particular name and then later whisk the name off to another school?"

Another ratepayer suggested that the name of the new school should have been Drayton Valley Composite or something similar and the Frank Maddock name retained by the present junior high school.

And of course, the Klondike Gold Rush couldn't be forgotten, and Klondike Kate, Bonnie McGhee, led her dancers through those familiar klondike dances.

Discotheque dancers offered immediate contrast, followed by a stop at the land of the Eskimos and a solo by Ann Coppens; then the a warmer country for afternoon tea in "An English Country Garden."

The audience was taken into the "Future", and the program ended as all 200 skaters made their way on the ice to "It's a Small World."

Behind-the scenes activities included: Doris Reid, Chairman; Karen Kirkwood, Debbie Reid, Barb Paley, Karen Machan, and Bonnie Mohn, Choreography; Kay McLeod, Costume Design; the mothers, Costume Co-Ordinators; Karen Kirkwood and Jeanette Miner, Music Chairmen; and Ross and Kay McLeod, Props.

Chairman of Rotary Club Activities was Richard McDonald, with Otto Nickel and Arnold Dunham on Set Design; Arnold Dunham on Ticket Sales; and Mike Gormley as Carnival Queen Chairman.

Miss Carol McLeod won the queen raffle draw for a transistor radio.

Proceeds of the event are shared between the Figure Skating and Rotary Clubs, with the Rotary share going toward Cub and Scout activities and the maintenance of the Scout Hall.

to carry its liabilities, an increase will have to be made in the rates of water and sewer charges.

Councillor Bob Mayhew, Chairman of Development and Publicity, reported that, as far as development was concerned, over $2 million in building permits was taken out and over 80 lots were developed and proposed for subdivisions.

Education requisitions amounted to $148,033 - being $129,590 for the Foundation Progarm, $16,766 for Public School and $1,677 for the Separate Schoo, maintaining a comparable levy to that of 1970 when considering the increase in assessment.

Joint and Special Expenditures showed no change other than brought about by the change in assessment except that the Drayton Valley Municipal Hospital requisition was $17,974 as compared to nil for 1970.

Berrymoor News

A Tupperware party at which Mrs. Marlaine McIlwaine was the hostess, was held on March 21st and was very well attended.

Weekend visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Martin were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Martin of Rocky Mountain House.

The meeting of the Berrymoor Three B's Club that was scheduled for March 25th has been postponed until a later date, because of the muddy roads.

Rev. and Mrs. J. Bend have returned from a trip to Vancouver, B. C.

Mrs. George Martin had the misfortune to fall and injure one of her ankles quite severely. Her many friends hope to see her out and around again soon.

The St. Patricks Day Dance in Drayton Valley sponsored by the Senior Citizens, was very well attended and enjoyed by all. A goodly number of Berrymoor and Lindale folks were there.

When we have nothing to say it's best to say nothing, but few of us can do it.

I hope that at some future date, I have the opportunity to visit with the people of the Soviet Union and to enjoy the beauty of your country.

In the meantime, I know that Miss Hogarth is enjoying her visit with you and the opportunity to meet and talk with you personally.

I hope that as many as possible of our two peoples will have opportunities to travel, to meet people of other lands, and to know them as friends.

Yours truly,

A true and highly hilarious story by Duncan Pryde of his discovery of the Eskimo's remote and primitive way of life which he became easily adapted to. He speaks with authority of northern native life -- the Eskimo's birth, death and marriage rites, their extraordinarily tolerant sexual customs, their age-old hunting skills and the uncertain future in a fast-changing North. His account becomes all the more valuable as the traditional Eskimo society is vanishing into history.

Rebels - Colonels Meet in Final

By DOUG BARNES

The Rebels earned their way into the league final last Tuesday night by shutting out the Camrose Maroons 3 to 0 and taking the series 3 games to one.

Shutting out the Maroons is a big job at any time but doing it in Camrose takes a good effort and this is what the Rebels did Tuesday night. I think this was one of the best three periods of hockey they put together this winter. Maybe I should say two periods, they did not have a real good first period.

Camrose out-shot them 10 to 5 but one of the 5 shots went in making it 1 to 0 in the first period.

The big man for the Rebels was Lorne Foster in the net. Lorne's first shutout this season. I don't know when I have seen better goal-tending. He shut the door early in the first period when John Froehler let go a hard slap shot from about 20 feet out. Lorne gloved it like a routine shot, from here on there was no way the Maroons were going to get it by him.

The forwards back-checked hard all night. The defense played real good defensive hockey. With this kind of goal-tending, good back-checking and defense dumping the puck over the blue line, they will take Wetaskiwin in the finals. But it will be a long series.

Henry Hodgson led the Rebels with two goals and one assist. One of the Rebel goals were scored when they were short-handed. Hodgson first one was when Ed Phillips was off for roughing.

The finals start here Tuesday, March 28th. The second game will go Thursday in Wetaskiwin. From there on I'm not sure because of the Easter weekend. The series should produce the best hockey of the season.

Wetaskiwin Colonels won the Northern Provincial B playoffs downing High Prairie 11 goals to 10.

SCORING SUMMARY

Drayton Valley 3, Camrose 0.

First period - 1. Drayton Valley, Hodgson (Roggeveen) 18:18.

Second period - 2. Drayton Valley, Roggeveen (Hodgson) 15:10; 3. Drayton Valley, Hodgson (Belcourt-Elliott) 17:50.

Third period - no scoring.

Drayton Valley received 8 penalties and Camrose 7.

Shots on goal by Drayton Valley 4, 10, 10 - 24; Camrose 10, 11, 5 - 26.

SUB-MITS

FROM THE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Many children enjoy writing limricks. The following were written by Ian Hutchinson, grade six. His teachers are Mr. Smeland and Mrs. Letweniuk.

There was this old man named George,
Who tried to cross a big gorge,
  He stepped on a sliver,
  And fell in the river,
And that was the end of ol'George.

There was a young boy named Hensel,
Who tried to draw on a stencil,
  First he drew a rabbit,
  Then it became a habit,
And kept drawing till he wore out his pencil.

There was this young boy named Fred,
Who stuck a fork in some bred,
  The bread went "Ka-boom",
  And down came the room,
And now we can't find that young Fred.

There was this young man who was French,
Who tried to dig a deep trench,
  He dug too deep down,
  And then he got drowned,
And all they could find was his wrench.

Have you heard what happened to Ned?
Last night he fell out of bed.
  He fell upside down,
  And rolled out of town,
And for all we know he now could be dead.

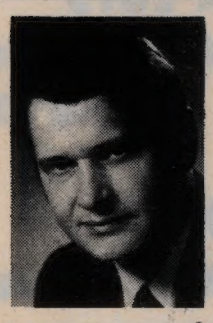
Report From Parliament Hill

By Allen Sulatycky, M.P.



Many of the proposals mentioned in the Speech from the Throne have been transformed into legislation and are being brought before the House of Commons.

Two of the topics touched on in the Throne Speech were the development of housing, and neighborhood planning. It was indicated that the government would be proposing "fresh concepts, continuing research, and imagination in neighborhood improvement, with emphasis on the need for low-cost housing."

Mr. Ron Basford, Minister of State for the Urban Affairs, has elaborated on that statement. "We will be proposing", the Minister said, "on the one hand, new financial mechanisms to improve the flow of funds for housing from the capital market. On the other hand, we will be proposing amendments to the National Housing Act to provide a broader range of projects for meeting the needs of low income persons and families, and the improvement of urban neighborhoods."

As a result of the steps that have been taken since 1964, such as the freeing of the National Housing Act, interest rates have now increased the capital flow of funds from the capital market into housing, to the extent that private lending institutions are expected to finance 195,000 housing units in 1972. This funding by private lending institutions is in addition to what the government will do.

Taking into account the federal government's investment on behalf of low income families, at least 240,000 housing units will be started in 1972.

Mr. Basford suggested that more can be accomplished, particularly to improve the liquidity of mortgages held by such investors as Canada's pension funds, the charter banks, and the trust companies. "It will be proposed therefore," he said, "that a publicly owned residential mortgage bank be created to buy and sell residential mortgages, and thus create the liquidity that is sought by some investors."

Through new mortgage investment companies, opportunities will be created for many more and smaller investors to provide funds for the support of the construction of more housing units.

Amendments to the National Housing Act to be submitted to Parliament, will be intended to provide a wide range of types of assistance to improve the quality of urban neighborhoods. Also, it is the intention of the government to provide a wide range of choices for meeting the needs of low income families and disadvantaged groups, wherever they are to be found in Canada.

Close cooperation with the provinces and municipalities has been seen as a key to solving the problems of housing and urbanization in Canada.

LEGISLATIVE REPORT

By Kevin Peterson and Don Sellar (of the Calgary Herald)

Aid for senior citizens, two funds to encourage economic growth and a $199 million spending program for capital works highlighted a $1.369 million spending program in the Conservative government's first budget.

There were few surprises as Provincial Treasurer Gordon Miniely read the budget document March 17 and promised Albertans they will face no new taxes or increases in existing levies this year.

Priorities in the budget, the provincial treasurer said, were to hold the line on spending while providing needed improvement in some areas. The government managed to accomplish both--although it will take a record borrowing program to do it.

Spending increased only 9.7 per cent overall in the budget, the lowest hike in six years, while the Tories managed a start on their promises to help the family farm and give senior citizens, the handicapped and mentally ill a better deal.

Those over 65 years of age will now have the option of being exempt from the 30-mill education levy on property tax or taking the existing homeowner tax discount. The program, expected to cost $2.5 million this year, will double the rebate for most elderly property owners, while those who now receive the $150 grant because they are on Ottawa's guarantee income supplement will do about the same on either plan.

For the elderly who rent accommodation, the budget provides $2 million for annual grants of $50 to renters.

The Conservatives will start their new Agricultural Development Fund with a grant of $5 million. It will be amalgamated with the $21 million already in the Farm Purchase Credit Act to guarantee loans to farmers and pay for projects to help small operations and young farmers.

The budget also replaces the Social Credit-started incentive program for industry with a new Alberta Opportunity fund. The budget provides $15 million for the fund which will provide loans to new industry, especially those wishing to locate in rural areas, and help out existing business that want to expand.

Spending on mental health was bumped 13 per cent to $15.4 million, while the budget provided $3 million more for programs for handicapped children--including $1 million for workshops and residences and $1 million for diagnosis and treatment programs.

Maximum workmen's compensation pensions will go to $225 monthly from $175 monthly.

Mr. Miniely said there is no reason to be concerned with the record deficit because Alberta has the lowest per capita debt in the country and will have little trouble on the bond market. The province expects to pay eight per cent interest on the bonds and debentures it issues.

A capital spending program of $224 million which requires the deficit financing was deliberate, Mr. Miniely said, because it will "provide additional stimulus to the economy."

Opposition spokesmen scored the budget for its deficits. Socred leader Harry Strom said the Conservatives are "mortgaging the future generations of Alberta."

"I have but one lamp by which my feet are guided, and this is the lamp of experience. I know of no way of judging the future but by the Past." Patrick Henry.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Western Review,
The Editor.

Dear Sir:

I attended the Sportsmen's Dinner at the Frank Maddock High School and it was a very well planned evening and lovely meal served by the Elks.

Then came the shock of the evening when the Master of Ceremonies was introduced and then the filthy jokes started. It seems a shame that our first Sportsmens Dinner should get such a reputation. Even some of the guest speakers talked more about sex and intercourse than about their own sport.

The principal guest speaker was indeed a very interesting man to hear but he could have omitted using God's name in vain.

What is this world coming to?

Mrs. Carl Anderson.

Editorial Comment

A Sick, Sick Trick

This newspaper was recently used in a manner that has caused us grave concern. It was the type of act that we realized could occur, but hoped might not. It caused several innocent people a good deal of discomfort.

To start at the beginning--a girl or young woman contacted The Western Review by telephone and after identifying herself falsely, placed an untrue "engagement notice" involving two young people in their early teens, neither of whom were known to the newspaper staff. They are acquainted only through their attendance at the same school.

The young people were naturally upset, as were their parents, and the editor of this paper is damned angry.

A newspaper is in a uniquely vulnerable position. It is impossible to verify every word we print and yet we are compelled week by week to stand responsible for everything that appears in these columns.

Twenty-five years as a newsman have on the whole constituted a satisfactory life--but just one experience of this type makes me wonder about the fishbowl type of existence selected as a lifetime vocation.

In those 25 years we've run across almost every type of creep, but this was a new experience, and to the best of my knowledge, the first time our columns have been the vehicle of a venomous, anonymous attack of this nature.

The telephone is a legitimate tool of modern communication. It would not be realistic to rip out our phones and demand that every classified ad buyer appear in person with her identification. We are in the unenviable position of having to trust people--fortunately by far the greater majority are trustworthy and the chance of another incident of this nature, hopefully remote.

It's entirely possible that the girl responsible is too ignorant to appreciate the seriousness of her stupid trick and it is not our intention to pursue it further, but she's not off the hook yet. She could still be identified and called to answer for her actions.

However, lest the miserable wretch who caused all this trouble, or another of like mentality, ever consider something of this sort again, be advised that we would consider it in a very serious light. We would spare no effort in locating and taking legal action against the perpetrator of a future incident of this nature.

DID YOU KNOW?

The following articles were printed in the latest issue of the Alberta Consumer March 1972. Do you know what to do when you can't pay a bill on its due date, or meet a scheduled payment? Well there is one thing not to do: Don't pretend the problem isn't there!

Give first thought to keeping your credit in good standing. You may need credit again some day. Before the person or the store has to call you about a missed payment, you call him. Better yet, go in personally and explain your situation, preferably on the day the payment is due. You have no idea how much you polish your reputation by making the first move to get the situation straightened out! Nothing could demonstrate as much as your intention to meet the problem head-on and pay your debts. Work out a new agreement - something you can handle. Then handle it! The second time around may not be so easy.

FIVE TIPS ON WISE USE OF CREDIT

These days you hear it said that it's already too easy to get credit. Unsolicited credit cards come in the mail. Department store clerks push their charge plans. A single credit card may enable you to charge at a thousand stores. Businesses that didn't have a single credit customer a few years ago, are now working hard for all the charge accounts they can get. Many of them have found that they can make more profit on credit charges than on the merchandise they sell.

Consider these five tips that should help you use your credit to best advantage: Buy by plan, not by impulse; pay cash for day to day necessities; a 30-day charge account can often be helpful, but be sure you can conveniently pay the bill; if you are unable to pay cash for major items, borrow from a credit union or bank; and you can count on helpful suggestions and assistance in managing your money from these two sources.

FACT

Cash customers have to pay the same prices as credit card buyers despite the fact that businesses must pay credit card companies a fee of from 3% to 8% on each credit card sale. Since these fees along with the expenses and losses that come from handling credit card sales are incorporated into the prices paid by all consumers, cash buyers are, in effect subsidizing the "buy now pay later" crowd.

Entwistle News

Another Elks whist drive was held on March 18th with nine tables of players. Ladies' high went to Edna Hadley; low, Kay Smith; and consolation, Betty Hodgson. Watch for notices of an animal waste management short course to deal with Manure Management; (Beef, Dairy, Swine Systems and Design), Land Requirements and Pollution Legislation as applicable to agriculture. Why are we having this meeting? Who suggested the topic? It was originally suggested by a local dairyman, John Adam, who is a member of our Agricultural Advisory Committee. The Committee felt a need existed to provide the most recent information on effective disposal of animal manures without creating problems.

Secondly, we have noticed some streams conjested with feedlot run-off already this apring. Individuals downstream from sources of such pollution have regulations to protect them and should be aware of such.

Thirdly, we have had several operations which were ordered to cease work after being well along in their construction plans. A visit to the Department of Health and/or Environment could have prevented this.

To obtain top-notch speakers we may have to combine efforts of D.A.'s in Morinville, Leduc, and Strathcona and hold our meeting in the Sportex. We would appreciate an indication of interest from you in planning this event.

To those of you with surplus hay to sell, we are letting other D.A. districts know that it is available - contrary to the belief we are making no effort.

In the last week, several dairy and swine operators have had their on-the-job training applications approved. Now they must find a man to train before the March 31 deadline. If you know of anyone who could fill these positions please notify this office.

Contrary to notices which are appearing on Dairy Sale Bills, our Minister has informed us "the $6,000 loan to dairymen is not yet through" However, the Livestock Loan Guarantee Act which covers the purchase of female cattle or female sheep for breeding purposes in order to add to a livestock enterprise, or the consolidation of all or part of existing liabilities to prevent liquidation of a breeding herd applies west of the 5th Meridian.

The Incomparable Christ

Submitted by Pastor Roger McClelland - author unknown

More than nineteen hundred years ago there was a man born contrary to the laws of life. This man lived in poverty and was reared in obscurity. He did not travel extensively. Only once did He cross the boundary of the country in which He lived; that was during His exile in childhood.

He possessed neither wealth nor influence. His relatives were inconspicuous, and had neither training nor formal education.

In infancy He startled a king; in childhood He puzzled doctors; in manhood He ruled the course of nature, walked upon the billows as if pavement, and hushed the sea to sleep.

He healed the multitudes without medicine and made no charge for His service.

He never wrote a book, yet all the libraries of the country could not hold the books that have been written about Him.

He never wrote a song, and yet He has furnished the theme for more songs than all the songwriters combined.

He never founded a college, but all the schools together cannot boast of having as many students.

He never marshalled an army, nor drafted a soldier, nor fired a gun; and yet no leader ever had more volunteers who have, under His orders, made more rebels stack arms and surrender without a shot fired.

He never practiced psychiatry, yet He has healed more broken hearts than all the doctors far and near.

Once each week the wheels of commerce cease their turning and multitudes wend their way to worshipping assemblies to pay homage and respect to Him.

The names of past proud statesmen of Greece and Rome have come and gone. The names of the past scientists, philosophers, and theologians have come and gone; but the name of this Man abounds more and more. Though time has spread more than nineteen hundred years between the people of this generation and His crucifixion, yet He still lives. Herod could not destroy Him, and the grave could not hold Him.

He stands forth upon the highest pinnacle of heavenly glory, proclaimed of God, acknowledged by angels, adored by saints and feared by devils, as the living, personal Christ, or Lord and Saviour.

New Books Arrive at Entwistle Library

Some new publications that have arrived this month at the Entwistle Community Library are: For the younger readers - The Magic Fishbone by Charles Dickens, a charmingly quaint fairy story is told by a little girl of seven. Princess Alicia is the eldest daughter of a King and Queen who have nineteen children. She is given a fishbone by the good Fairy Grandmarina. This unusual fairy story has a charm all of its own.

Oliver, a story by Charles Dickens based on the film version of the same name. On a dreary winter night in a nineteenth century poorhouse in England, a boy was born and orphaned without even a name to call his own. From a local official he received the name of Oliver Twist. From the poorhouse he received nothing but gruel to eat, hard labor at the treadmill, and cruel beatings.

For the adult readers -- The Mountain That Went to the Sea, the lonely outback of Mallibee has been the subject of tribulation and disagreement among the Ashendens for three generations. Some members of the family are convinced that the trouble could be solved by a marriage between the cousins. Jackie arrives at Mallibee Downs to escape from a disastrous love affair and is outraged when the first question Barton Ashenden asks her when they meet is, "which one of us do you intend to marry?"

The Godfather by Mario Puzo, takes us inside the violence - infested society of the Mafia and its gang wars. It is essentially the story of a man and his power.

Other worthwhile books received are: True Ghost Stories from the files of Elliott O'Donnell, Barbeque Book by Elizabeth Sewell, The World of Antiques, Knitting for Children.

Planning Commission Outlines Objectives

In order to plan for the Edmonton region, the Planning Commission must first determine what kind of region is wanted. In order to do this, it is essential that the goals be identified.

These goals are concerned with those aspects of regional life which shape the form and structure of development and the location and relationship of major activities.

The Commission, over the years has adopted policies which have been tied to the goals of the region; however, there has not been a conscious attempt to identify, examine and evaluate these goals.

The primary goal is defined as the need "to plan for people and not things". It should be remembered that the plan is aimed at assuring the rational physical development of this urban-centred region and the creating of an environment favorable to man's full development. It is not strictly a plan to remedy social ills.

Goal 1--to develop a strategy for growth which will reflect the principle of the conservation of natural resources and the management and guidance of the use of all land within the region.

Policies include the preservation of such as the river valleys and regional lakes for recreational, scenic and permanent open space purposes; and the preservation of good agricultural land for continued agricultural use.

Goal 2--to develop the region in a manner consistent with the locational and space requirements of the region's major economic activities. Policies include adequate provision of necessary services for these economical activities; and provision of adequate alternatives for the accommodation of these economical activities in various areas of the region.

Goal 3--to aim for a pollution-free environment within the region. Policies include minimizing of the pollution of land, water and air; reducing concentrations of air pollutants; reducing possibilities of noise pollution; and prevention of contamination of surface and ground-water supplies.

Goal 4--to achieve a totally integrated transportation system for the region. Policies include integrated land use; balance between public and private transportation; integration of highways; transportation corridors; present and future airport location.

Goal 5--to maintain a viable pattern of communities, both urban and rural. Policies include direction of urban growth; identification and encouragement of regional growth centres; and encouragement and maintenance of a sound agricultural community.

LEGISLATIVE REPORT

RUSTY ZANDER, M.L.A.

The Budget was brought down Friday night, March 17th, and the attack on the Budget Speech by opposition members on the borrowing of $199 millions was noted with interest - especially the former administration in attacking the budget on just this point alone, forgetting that they by underestimating the budget by approximately $65 million last year and their borrowing amounted to almost $163 millions. I ask the elector to justify their attack on this point only when it really amounts to less.

Where do they wish us to cut the aid extended to our senior citizens, or the agricultural part of the budget? I guess not.

Perhaps we should cut the portion in the allocation to the Natural Resources Railroad, which is a sizeable amount, or perhaps the deficit of approximately $7 million. Perhaps we should sell this white elephant, but who would want to buy it? However, my government will have to come to grips with this issue sooner or later.

A hold-the-line and no increase is allowed in the social allowance and welfare budget. It will be our duty to find jobs and start correcting in part some of this sizeable expenditure.

The amount allocated to our universities has also come under close scrutiny and the allocation has been held to a 1% plus increase because of the drop in enrolment. The new directing regarding colleges in smaller centres, and the training of our young citizens in other than universities, training for jobs that are available now - not merely to provide academic education, but also training and retraining for jobs that will be available in the very near future - the use of our present facilities, and to construct more in the smaller centres of our province, provided in the budget.

The mentally ill and physically handicapped will be aided by the new allocation in the budget.

The amendment to the farm home amendment will provide lower rates of interest under the Act.

The Wildlife Act has been amended to provide for higher penalties for contravention of this Act. It raised the penalty from $300 to $1000 in Section 115, subsection A. Subsection B has been increased from $300 to $500 and Subsection C from $500 to $1500 and Section 117 of the Act has been amended from $400 to $1500. This may make our hunter more cautious of what he will be facing in contravention of this Act.

Many more acts were amended, merely housekeeping jobs and not of major importance.

However, the Margarine Act which was given first reading is in for a very tough time in debate, and it will be very interesting to see and hear the arguments on both sides, regarding the future colour of margarine.

Easter Cantata To be Presented

"Hallelujah for the Cross" - the old, old story with the ever revelant message - will be presented in the Calvary Baptist Church at 8:00 p.m. on Thursday, March 30th. Mr. Rod Penner will be directing the choir, accompanied by Mrs. Pat Lewis at the piano. The soloists will be Mrs. Barb Botsford and Mr. Bill McCarthy. Mr. Bill Roberts will read the narration.

You are cordially invited to come and share this evening of music with us.

A report of the years activities was read by the secretary.

It was decided to discontinue the rink lights immediately for the present. The Recreation Centre will still have power and will be available for community use.

It was decided to have a July 1st picnic and dance. The question of the annual parade was undecided. It was decided that each club talk it over and send their decision to the Tomahawk and District board meeting.

The revised consititution was read and accepted. The annual statement was read, discussed and passed.

Herb Zander presented a report on the possibility of using the school gym and library instead of the hall for community use and what would be involved. A motion was made and carried that the club have a committee meet with the school board and make the necessary arrangements so that the school facilities could be used for the public.

Four people were needed to replace retiring board members. The newly elected members are Olive Case, Edna Goertz, Henry Pischke and Sydney Parfieniuk. Election of officers for the year then followed with Herb Zander the new President; Henry Rabe Treasurer; and Gloria Jouan Secretary.

"Village Lake Louise" was discussed and it was voted "NO". A letter to this effect is to be sent in.

Marion Jouan and Mr. Overbo gave a note of thanks to the retiring board members, Walter Case, Carol Namchuk, Evert Pryor and Alma Schadeck; alsp to the retiring officers, President, Henry Rabe and Secretary, Mrs. Henry Rabe, Secretary, Mrs. Pryor and Treasurer, Carol Namchuk.

Event Proves Big Success

The 1st annual Sportsmen's Dinner held recently has been reported a great success.

The Drayton Valley Athletic Association has expressed its appreciation of the support by local residents and the out-of-town sports representatives who travelled here to help make the evening a success.

Indicative of the measure of success were comments by sports figures who attended:

John Atamian -- "As good or better than some of the $100 plate dinners held in various cities in Alberta. They could learn a few lessons from you."

Father Athol Murray -- "Exhilarating, marvelous experience of Canadianism and sports. Yours is a great town."

Johann Louw -- "One of the better dinner's I've been to."

Jim Young -- "Great night, thrilled with going to the schools and meeting the kids of your town."

Relationship of Animal Fats To Heart Disease Studied

What are the facts about dairy products and their relationship to heart disease?

This subject is not new says Ed Bristow of the Alberta dairy branch. The controversy has been raging for well over 20 years, and we still hear that the best way to avoid a heart attack is to cut down on our saturated (animal) fat intake. But what are the scientific findings to support this theory?

According to the Farmington Study results, published in September, 1970, research does not support the theory. Commissioned by the American Heart Association, the study was carried on for 20 years on nearly 1,000 men and women representing a cross-section of the American population.

The final results showed no association between diet intake and the serum cholestrol levels in the blood stream, nor did the data suggest any relationship between diet and the subsequent development of coronary heart disease. These findings do not mean that diet adjustments may not help to minimize heart disease, but they do point out that a great deal more needs to be known about the subject before a general manipulation of cholestrol levels in the population is wise, or even safe.

Although the Farmington study shattered the philosophy behind the American Heart Association's long campaign to convince the public that animal fats are harmful, the Association did not accept these results, nor did it silence its campaign. Mr. Bristow says this massive campaign has been extremely damaging to farmers who market milk, eggs, pork and beef.

However, dairy organization leaders almost fell out of their seats recently when they heard Dr. Campbell Moses, medical director of the American Heart Association, recommend that people drink two glasses of milk a day for good health. Dr. Moses was a participant on a diet and heart symposium. Other doctors at the symposium expressed surprise at Dr. Moses' de-emphasis on the importance of diet as a risk factor in heart disease.

The fact that coronary heart disease has increased dramatically on the North American continent during the last 30 years does not support the saturated fat theory either. On a per capita basis, the consumption of saturated fats decreased by 12 per cent from 1951 to 1966. This decrease says Mr. Bristow, was mainly due to the switch to the cheaper vegetable oils and the adverse publicity directed against animal fats. North Americans now have about the lowest animal fat intake per capita of any of the developed countries, and yet they have the highest rate of heart disease

The director of the Harold Brunn Institute for Cardiovascular Research at Mount Zion Hospital and the Medical Center in San Francisco, Dr. Friedman, said that there is little doubt after 10 years of research that milk, meat and cigarettes are not responsible for our alarming increase in heart disease. The culprit, he explained, is the increasing incidence and intensity of emotional stress. This behavior pattern has been brought about by the constant struggle to achieve more and more in less and less time. A study of patients at the Harold Brunn Institute showed that everyone of the coronary patients under 60 years of age exhibited this behavior pattern.

Two California researchers, Dr. Seymour Dayton, professor of medicine at the University of California and Dr. Morton Lee Pearce of the Los Angles VA Center reported that the results of an eight-year study of 840 people showed that the death rate of those on a normal diet and those who were given an unsaturated fat diet were almost identical. The participants were divided into two equal groups. One group was given a normal diet with saturated fats and the other was given an unsaturated fat diet. Of the 178 deaths that occured in the normal diet group, 70 were caused by heart attacks and 17 by cancer. Of the 174 deaths in the unsaturated fat diet group, 48 were caused by heart attacks and 32 by cancer. In this study the incidence of cancer was almost double in unsaturated fat diet group. In view of these findings the researchers were emphatic in their argument against agressive efforts to change the diets of the whole U.S. population without first doing much more extensive diet studies.

Tomb of Indian Empress located in Taj Mahal

IT is said that behind every great man stands a woman. Indian Emperor Shah Jahan, who lived in the 17th century, really must have believed in this motto. For he built the world famous Taj Mahal in memory of his wife, Mumtaz Mahal.

One of the most impressive sights for Canadian visitors to India's Taj Mahal is the main mausoleum, where the tombs of Shah Jahan and Mumtaz Mahal are located.

There are four tombs altogether — two genuine in the catacomb and two replicas on the floor above. The replicas, surrounded by a marble screen, are profusely decorated with flowers, verses from the Koran and the ninety names of God known to Islam.

The marble screen is a work of rare craftsmanship. Each panel is hewn out of one single slab and chiselled into a lace effect.

The tombs bear the names of their occupants and are distinguished by the emblems on them — the slate for the female and raised pen-holder for the male. The replica lies directly over the genuine article, thus preventing people from walking over top of the tomb.

The Critical Feeding Period for Beef Cows

The most critical part of the winter feeding period for beef cows is the period after they have calved. Even if their nutrition was low before calving, results can still be good if they receive high nutritional rations after they have calved.

Jerome Martin, nutritionist with the Alberta department of agriculture's animal industry division, explains that a cow's nutritional requirements go up considerably after she has calved because she has to produce milk, Of course, these requirements had been increasing over the last few months as the calf developed. But right after calving is the critical time. During this period protein, calcium and vitamin A requirements more than double, Mr. Martin says.

A cow that is receiving a fairly good legume hay before and after she calves probably does not need her rations supplemented, except with minerals and, perhaps vitamin A. A legume hay or a good grass-legume hay containing 10 per cent protein or more should provide adequate levels of both energy and protein. If, however, the hay is of poor quality, containing about 6 per cent protein, it should be supplemented with grain and, perhaps a protein supplement should be used as well.

Mr. Martin points out that cattlemen would be wise to save their best quality hay for this time of year rather than feeding it earlier in the winter. Date of cutting is usually the determining factor between good and poor quality hay. Early cut hay is superior to that which is cut later.

Cows that are fed on poor quality hay with no grain or protein supplement will lose condition after calving. Although this loss of condition may not seem serious at the time, problems may arise during the breeding season. It could take several services to get the cows in calf, which of course, would mean a lot of late calves the following year.

While a child awaits adoption, or his parents' reconciliation, he is a ward of the province. It takes an uncommon amount of love to take a shocked, frightened child into your heart during this troubled time.

The Department of Social Development's "Parents For a While" program consists of people: your neighbors, colleagues, friends. "Parents For a While" are mature persons who respond to the challenge of giving love, understanding, and security to troubled adolescents who need it desperately. They accept and love children who have not yet learned to love. To these people, helping a young life in crisis is more important than considerations of physical disability, teen-age disorientation, or race.

Challengers to Play In City Tournament

The Burrows Motors Challengers will participate in a three day tournament this weekend (March 31st to April 2nd), in Edmonton.

This will be a 12 team tournament, consisting of six Edmonton Bantam "AA" teams from the Canadian Athletic Club, which includes the following teams: Nelson Radiator, Optimists, North West Sales, Columbia Tile, Collins Steel, and Huber Electric, and six teams from smaller, urban centres. Among the teams from the smaller centres are: Jasper, Wetaskiwin, and Drayton valley from Alberta and Lloydminster, Unity, and Marsden from Saskatchewan.

Two arenas will be used for the tournament - the Jasper Place Arena andCoronation Park Arena. Action will commence in both arenas at 12:15 p.m. on Friday, March 31st, with all teams playing two games each, that day.

Saturday's games will be played at the Jasper Place Arena while Sunday's games will be played at the Coronation Park Arena.

The final game of the tournament will be played at 7:15 p.m. on Sunday between an Edmonton team and an urban centre team - the two teams participating will be the ones with the best for and against points average, after having played 4 games.

The Challengers schedule consists of the following four games: Friday, March 31st at 1:55 p.m., Challengers vs Collins Steel and at 6:55 p.m., Challengers vs North West Sales; Saturday, April 1st at 6:35 p.m., Challengers vs Optimists; Sunday, April 2nd at 4:45 p.m., Challengers vs Columbia Tile.

This will round out the season for this year's Burrows Motors Challengers. Their coaches have put in many good competitions for the season.

For these reasons, we urge the community citizens to come to this tournament and see some of our finest young athletes in action. Support the Challengers and show your appreciation to their fine coaches.

What is one's conscience? According to an interpretation known among Arizona Indians: "It's a little three-cornered thing in my heart that stands still when I am good, but when I am bad, it turns around a lot. If I keep on going wrong, soon the corners wear off and it does not hurt anymore."

Ceramics--the Clay Art

With the extra hours of leisure housewives now get, another hobby has been added to the already long list of Drayton Valley spare time activities.

Ceramics -- a relatively new hobby to the northern hemisphere, have sprung up in almost every fair-sized town and city. Drayton Valley alone boasts five clubs, involving over 200 ladies.

Constantly amazing to the ladies is the fact that some clay and water, some glazes or stains, and high temperatures can produce such beautiful ornaments as ceramic swans, Snow Whites and elves, praying hands, and hundreds more.

Clay is purchased by the 100 pound or 50 pound bag in powdered form and mixed with water in old washing machines until it reaches a consistency of thick cream.

The clay is then ready for pouring into moulds -- a special technique is required in order to avoid streaking and air pockets. When it begins to get as thick as a 50-cent piece, the excess clay and water is poured off, the mould opened, and the form left to dry completely. Such a process requires about 12 hours of drying time.

In this clay form, the article is extremely fragile and must be handled with great care. The seams on the piece, left from the mould edges, then have to be sanded with a small sharp-edged tool and dampened with a sponge.

It is now ready for its first firing. Placed in a temperature controlled kiln, the "greenware" (as the clay article is referred to) is baked at 2,400 degrees for eight hours.

Colouring follows, with either a glaze, stain, or texturizer, depending on the desired finish. If a glaze is used, three coats are applied, the piece is fired again, and the result is a beautiful handmade ornament. There are various finishes resulting from a glaze, such as the mother-of-pearl finish. In order to get such a high, irridescent gloss, the piece must be fired twice after the glaze is applied.

If a stained finish is desired, the piece does not need firing after the stain has been applied.

The results, of course, depend on the imagination, and are therefore, of particular pride to the maker. Such ornaments would cost an estimated double the cost in a store.

However, initial expenses run rather high. A small kiln, costing about $400, or a larger one costing about $800; an old washing machine; moulds, which can run as high as $200. for a 22-inch Snow White; glazes and stains, costing about $1.50 a jar, and the clay, itself, can add up to over $1,000. to start.

But, ladies who are interested in ceramics in Drayton Valley, are fortunate to have five different clubs to choose from, thus reducing cost to a few dollars a month.

The Recreation Department sponsors a ceramics club for the town by supplying the small building behind the swimming pool and the water. Mrs. Pinkowsky, Ariel Roberge, and Marilyn Bowen instruct the 34 ladies who take classes Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday evening, and Wednesday afternoon. The club now owns about $2,000 worth of moulds, one small and one large kiln, and have an inventory of about $1,000 in paints.

There are two sessions a year for four months, starting in September and ending in May. Cost, which includes greenware and glazes, is $6.00 for a four-month session. The ladies learn all phases of the making of ceramics.

Private clubs include Mrs. Niel White, who teaches the hobby to about 40 ladies a week; Mrs. Delia Duperron, who began her ceramics career about four years ago, finds it a relaxing family affair, and instructs about 20 ladies in the afternoon and evenings (she also took Duncans teaching training in Shelby, Montana to learn the various techniques and dangers involved in making ceramics); Mrs. Denise Kazoleas, who more or less does ceramics now for her own enjoyment; and Mrs. Inga Hawryluk.

All feel that the hobby is relaxing and find that the most interesting aspect of it is that it's their own creation.

This little guy looks pretty happy about his job--all he has to do is be admired! Made by Mrs. Duperron, the elf is only one of hundreds of ideas for ceramic decorations.

Ole! Such finished ceramic pieces are the pride of the maker.

Ceramic artists can't seem to stop and they soon get quite a collection!

Regular Meeting of Yellowhead Board

Present for the Yellowhead School Division Board Meeting Report of March 8, 1972 were trustees, George Monsma, A. L. Fausak, A.E.Winfield, S.Delano, M. A. Collin, Dr. I.W.C. Reid, Mrs. H. K. Nelson; County of Parkland Representative, Mrs. A. Clark; Superintendent of Schools, B. A. Chandler; and Assistant Superintendent, D.S.Blundell. The meeting was held at the Parkland Composite High School in Edson.

Resignations were accepted with regret from Mrs. N. Keyte, Mrs. J. Hall, Mrs. D. Parnall, and Mr. N. Myschuk as assistant principal of the Wildwood School. Mr. Myschuk will remain on the teaching staff.

Mr. Gary Mahon, presently acting assistant principal at Jubilee Junior High School, was appointed principal of the A. H. Dakin School commencing at the beginning of the 1972-73 school year. Mr. Mahon has been with the division for eight years. During this time he has taught in Hinton and has held the positions as assistant principal at A. H. Dakin, Pine Grove and Jubilee Junior High Schools in Edson.

Mrs. Laura M. Thacher and Mr. Patrick M. Duffy were granted professional improvement leave for the 1972-73 school year. Both will be attending the University of Alberta. Under the terms of the collective agreement, each candidate will receive $4,500.00 while on leave.

The Superintendent outlined the difficulties encountered in getting the position of administrative assistant exempt from the terms of the collective agreement. To date the A.T.A has indicated that they are not willing to exempt the position from the collective agreement, but are willing to meet with the Board's negotiating committee to discuss the matter. The reasons for the Board requiring the exemption is that the incumbent's work year is longer and the schedule makes no provision for payment for a longer year. As well, the Board felt that they would have a greater choice of candidates if the salary was not dictated by the collective agreement. The salary for the administrative assistant was set at $11,000.00 annually.

Tentative approval was given to the number and deployment of teaching staff for the 1972-73 school year. The number of staff members approved for each school was as follows: Mountain View School, 28; Crescent Valley School, 23; Harry Collinge High School, 30; Bryan School, 2.5; Marlboro School, 1; Evergreen School, 10; A. H. Dakin School, 12; Central Elementary School, 10; Pine Grove School, 17.5; Jubilee Junior High School, 26.2; Parkland Composite High School, 24.5; Peers School, 2.5; Fulham School, 3.5; Niton Central School, 15; Wildwood School, 12.5; Evansview School, 13.75; Grand Trunk High School, 12.75; and Jacob Stahl School, 1.

The number of staff members at the three high schools, Harry Collinge, Parkland and Grand Trunk, will be reassessed depending on the outcome of pre-registration held late in March. In addition to the staff noted above a contingency of five staff members will be budgetted for. Central office professional staff will be five making a total staff for 1972-73 of 257.5. Final approval is dependent on considerations of the total budget.

The Board appointed S. Delano and I.W.C. Reid to serve on the Educational Development Committee. This committee, having representation from central office as well as from the teaching staff, will review proposals for major program changes from schools and decide on funding. During 1972, the committee has a fund of $5,000.00 to administer.

The Board has solicited advice from the A.S.T.A. solicitor on its policy regarding other agencies interviewing students on school premises and in light of this advice approved these regulations:

1. The school shall observe the utmost confidence at all times in matters concerning pupils and officers of the law or social agencies.
2. When a third party requests an interview with a pupil, the principal should make the student aware that he does not have to answer any questions at that time, but depending on the circumstances, should advise him either to cooperate with the third party interviewer or to not answer any questions.
3. When an officer wishes to interview a pupil, the school shall cooperate by providing a suitable area for the conduct of the interview.
4. The principal shall, if possible, contact the parent prior to the interview.
5. The principal, his delegated officer or an adult requested by the pupil shall be present at the interview unless the pupil does not want any of them present.
6. Principals shall keep a record of all such interviews.

The Board tentatively approved a proposal for an Outdoor Education Camp in the Hinton area and allocated $7,500.00 to the committee with which to purchase equipment. The location of the camp is yet to be decided. The facilities will consist of tents for shelter, and a trailer is planned for a cookhouse. The camp may be used by other schools in the division until such time as the

BE CAREFUL! Prevent Farm Accidents

Yellowhead Board Meeting

Hinton schools fully occupy the camp. In approving the proposal the Board indicated that stoves and gas lamps should not be used in tents, the cost of accident insurance for students attending the camp should be investigated, and the applicability of public camping regulations should be investigated.

The Superintendent reported that application for money from the new renovation fund set up by the Department had been made for the renovation projects at Central Elementary School and Niton Central School.

A report was recieved on the Volunteer Parents Program at Mountain View School. To date eighteen volunteers will be assisting teachers in a wide range of activities.

The Board was advised that the Niton Swimming Pool agreement has received approval of the Department of Municipal Affairs and has been returned for signing.

A report was received from the committee on the education of disadvantaged children. The committee, consisting of representatives from ARDA, Social Development, Youth and the Yellowhead School Division was formed last fall as a result of the concern by a number of agencies regarding the high rate of dropout of secondary school students. To date the committee has identified the characteristics of disadvantaged children and have submitted a report on this to the Board. They have also tentatively explored program changes which are felt to be necessary if the needs of these students are to be better met.

Information was received on the pilot project on the individualization of instruction for Chemistry 30 students at Parkland Composite High School. The course being piloted is a sixteen-unit program developed in Ontario that allows students to progress at their own rate.

Reports were received on work experience programs in three high schools. Work experience provides high school students with an opportunity to spend six hours per week in a work situation in the community under the supervision of the school as well as the business, Currently, there are twelve students in Edson, fourteen in Hinton, and six in Nit participating in a variety of work situations including retailing and merchandising, secretarial, forest management, hospital work, teacher-aide, pulpwood harvesting, welding and library work.

The Communications Laboratories, recently designed and installed at Parkland Composite and Harry Collinge High Schools, were reported on. The laboratories are designed so that remedial, developmental and enrichment programs in reading, listening, viewing and study skills can be offered to secondary students.

A letter was received from the Convention Association on teacher attendance at conventions advising that it was a teacher's moral obligation to advise their employer if they were absent from the convention. The Superintendent reported that staffs had been advised of this, but to date there was no indication that any teachers had been absent from the convention.

The Board decided not to join the regional bargaining association during the next round of teacher negotiations.

Because of the inadequacy of the present board room and also to affort electors a better opportunity of attending board meetings, it was decided to hold board meetings in other centres in the division. The April 12th meeting will be held at Parkland Composite High School while the May meeting will be held in the Harry Collinge High School in Hinton. Other meetings at other locations will be announced later.

Equine Education Courses in Alberta

Interest in courses on horses and horsemanship has been growing rapidly in Alberta during the last few years.

Jack Kerns, livestock specialist and authority on horses with the Alberta Dept. of Agriculture, reports practically every college in the province now offers courses in horse care, horse nutrition and horsemanship, and that most of these courses are filled to capacity.

For the last three years the University of Calgary has been offering a series of short courses on English and western equitation; horse reproduction and anatomy; principles involved in riding and showing; and horses from the artistic point of view. These courses, which have been mainly evening extension courses, have been very popular with members of the horse fraternity.

Similar courses on a smaller scale have been offered by the University of Alberta's extension department.

In the fall of 1972 the University's agricultural faculty plans to offer a credit course on equine physiology and nutrition.

Under their continuing education programs, the community colleges at Lethbridge, Medicine Hat, Red Deer and Edmonton are offering a variety of short courses on various aspects of interest to horse enthusiasts.

For the second consecutive year, the Olds College is conducting a farrier's course for people who want to start their own businesses. Twelves students are presently taking this three-month course. Five-day courses on hoof care and horse management have been arranged by the Alberta Dept. of Agriculture in various parts of the province.

Many city and town educational and recreational departments are becoming interested in horesmanship courses. The City of Edmonton has been conducting very popular beginners' course on horses and horsemanship for several years.

Mr. Kerns credits this upsurge of interest in the equine education field to the general increase in horse numbers for purely recreational use on small land holdings throughout the province. During the 1920's Alberta's estimated horse population was over 800,000. By 1970 this figure had dropped to about 80,000. It now appears to have levelled off and a slight increase can be expected from now on, Mr. Kern believes. There has been a definite increase in the number of light horses and light horse clubs in Alberta in the last few years, and a small increase of interest in the heavy horse industry. Light horse 4H clubs are now only outnumbered by beef and clothing clubs.

In 1970 Alberta's Arabian and Quarter Horse registrations topped those of other provinces in Canada. Our thoroughbred registrations are second only to those of Ontario. Alberta also had the second largest number of American Saddlebred and Morgan registrations and was very near the top in registrations for Appaloosas and Pintos. This province also ranks near the top in pony registrations for the whole of Canada and boasts a considerable number of hunter-type horses, Mr. Kerns says.

Local Girl Prepares Guides' 'Throne Speech'

The Alberta Council of the Girl Guides of Canada will hold the first session of the Alberta Girls' Parliament April 4th - 7th.

The Alberta Girls' Parliament was formed in 1971 with a proclamation read in the legislature by former cabinet minister Ethel Wilson. It followed the defeat of a resolution in the 51st session of the Tuxis parliament calling for girls to be admitted.

Volunteers do more than 90 percent of the work carried on by the Canadian Red Cross Society. The Canadian Red Cross Society plays an important part in international disaster and developmental assistance. Each year the funds contributed help provide medical materials and technical aid to countries in many parts of the world. Last year over $1,000,000 in aid was sent to countries in need, by and through the Canadian Red Cross.

THANK YOU

I want to extend my sincere thanks to all those who assisted, or offered to assist my family during my recent stay in hospital. Also my thanks for the many cards, gifts and flowers. Your thoughtfulness was very much appreciated.

Ann Reich

I would like to take this opportunity to thank my sponsors, the producing companies; my campaign manager Ross McLeod; the Oil Wives; and everyone who sold or bought tickets, or helped in any other way in my campaign for Carnival Queen.

Debbie Reid

I would like to thank Dr. Eustace and all of the nursing staff of the Drayton Valley Hospital for being so kind and good to me while I was in hospital; to friends and neighbors for stopping to say hello, and for the cards which I received. Special thanks to Mrs. Gordon Gillespie for coming over and dusting and cleaning my house after I got home and to Mrs. Ruth Barry for calling on nearly every day I was in hospital.

Mrs. Florence Armstrong

We wish to thank the supporters who made the evening such a huge success. Special thanks goes to our headtable guests who donated their time and expenses to support Minor Sports in Drayton Valley and area and would not except any monitary reward.

Special thanks to Father Athol Murray who left Wilcox, Saskatchewan as they started the festivities of Notre Dames 50th Anniversary, to be with us as a head table speaker.

Also special thanks to Johann Louw who arrived from Lake Tahoe, California where he fought March 13th, for making such a great effort to be here without accepting any monitary reward, to help make our dinner a financial success.
